

MODEST ALMIRALL

"The painter Modest Almirall (Ca N'Aguilera, Barcelona, 1959) presents unique and abstract surfaces in a tiny character, painted with needles and magnifying glass. The artist intends to represent the human situation facing the great questions and small doubts of existence. In his works, these tiny protagonists are situated in architectural constructions, in each case symbolizing global concerns such as the increasing individualism or the racial conflicts." - Jaume Vidal, art critic. The country. July 8, 2000.

1959. Ca n'Aguilera, Spain.

Modest Almirall constantly experiments with infinite painting formats that range from abstraction to classic figuration. But in all his works, he refers to the human measure within the whole, with an almost deliberate taste for irony and anthropocentricity.

He seeks to tell stories based on scattered fragments which seem to only be related due to being found in the same abandoned box. The viewer is purposed to find an explanation and develop a possible story inside his mind which, in the mind of another, may be completely different.
